The austere “milk bar” has made a comeback in Poland, thanks to residents nostalgic for communism.

The eateries--one of the few places Poles could afford to eat under the old regime—featured tasteless food and cutlery chained to the table so no one could steal it.

Now a new chain of Warsaw milk bars is so popular, getting a table is as difficult as at a Michelin-starred restaurant.

“The staff are rude, the food is awful and the service is non-existent” one ecstatic customer was quoted as saying. “It’s just like it used to be” he enthused!!!

October News

Hello Ladies

“Season of mist and mellow fruitfulness
Close bosom-friend of the maturing sun”
Keats

Isn't it odd that we can remember things we learned fifty years ago but can't remember what we did last week!! Anyway these lines came to mind when I returned from holiday a few days ago and we were driving home from the airport. The trees had changed dramatically in the ten days we were away and the temperature has certainly dropped.

I was sorry to have missed Ellen's coffee morning but I'm sure it was well supported and that everyone enjoyed Ellen's hospitality and a chance to chat with friends.

Ian Thomson's talk on Sir Jimmy Shand was very entertaining and the musical excerpts certainly had our feet tapping.

Our next meeting is on October 29th when we will be hearing about the effect alcoholism has on families and the support they need from Al Anon.

Best Wishes
Yours in friendship

Connie

OVERSEAS SERVICE

The deadline for Christmas shoeboxes is very close to our first meeting. Partly because of this, instead, we are proposing to send “Buckets of Love” to families via the usual Blythswood distribution routes. There is a very specific list of requirements to include (very similar to the shoebox list, but with some household goods as well) – which we think we can tackle. More about this at the October meeting. For those of you who wish to find out more, details can be found at www.blythswood.org and click “projects”. We hope this meets with your approval.
